The Officially Licensed Activity Book
For TV Girl's "The Wild, The Innocent,
The TV Shuffle"

Oh. Hello. If you're reading this, then you are the proud downloader of TV Girl's "The Wild, The Innocent, The TV Shuffle." Congratulations. This is the official activity book for that record. It's full of games, gags, and activities to keep your hands busy while you listen to the music. With your parents' permission, print it out and fill it in with crayon or colored pencil. If you don't have a printer at hand, feel free to draw right onto your computer screen.

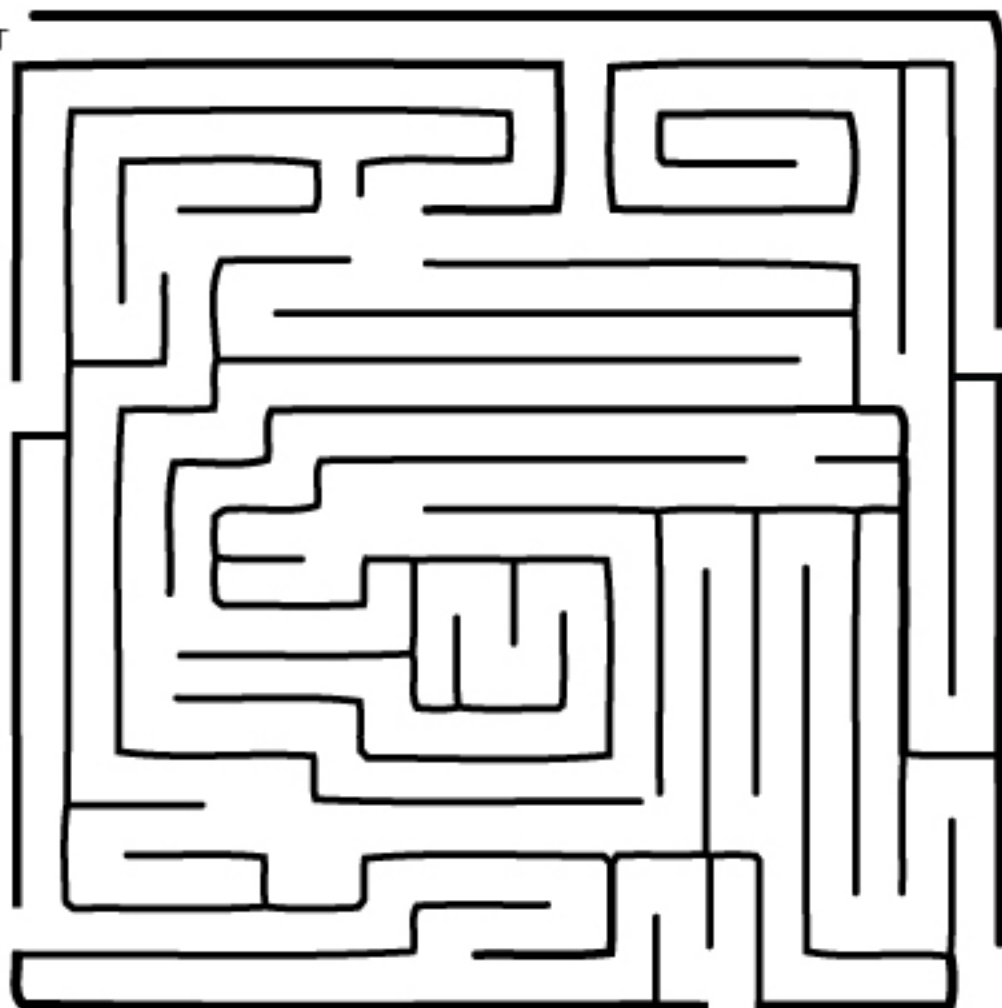

What's that? Who am I? Oh, don't worry about me. Right after this gig I'm off to the slaughter house where I'll be ground up into tiny bits and sent to super markets across the country. Anyways, enjoy.

Great news! Planter's Nuts is rebranding their signature line of pistachios and they are considering using a TV GIRL song for their edgy new viral video!

CAN YOU HELP TV GIRL GET TO THE SYNC LINCENSE?

Yikes! The Planter's people didn't like your tweet about "easy nut money."

Mr. Peanut ate you!

Oh no! Vampire Weekend offered one of their songs for half-price!

Whoops! You decided that using your song for commerce cheapens your art!

CAN YOU GUESS WHICH ONE IT IS?

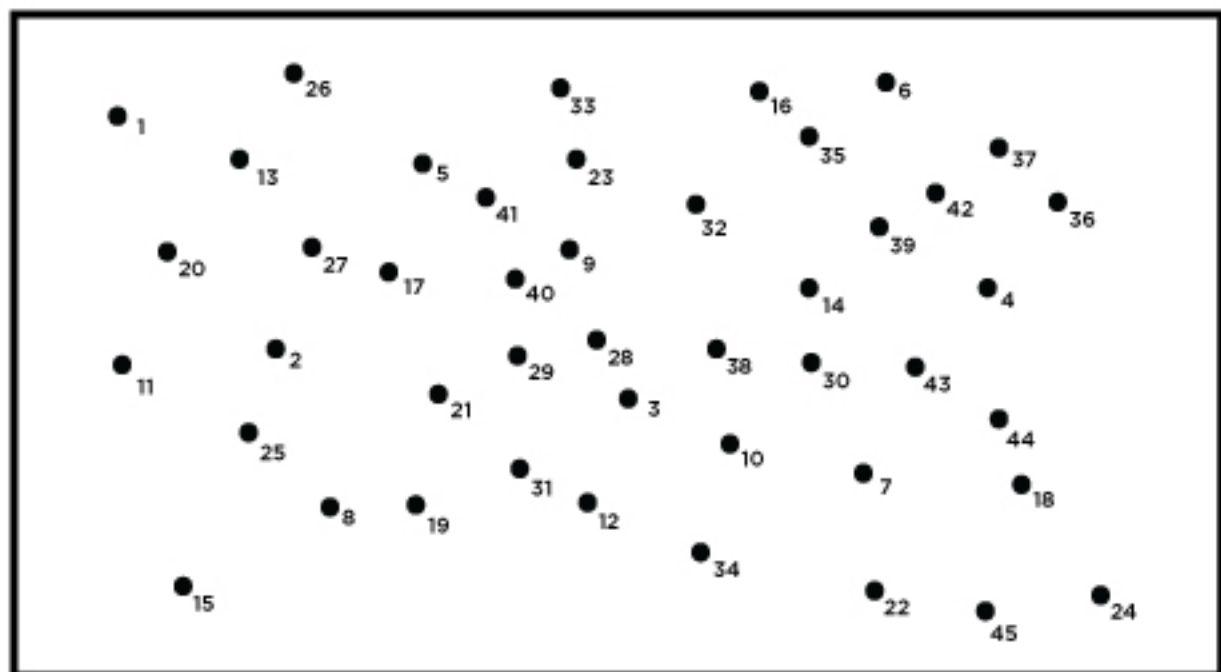

The Road is a desolate place. A thin black strip of civilization snaking through bleak desert landscapes littered with the detritus of nature's relentless, brutal struggle.

WHY NOT BRIGHTEN IT UP WITH SOME COLOR?

On their day off on tour, TV Girl stopped by the local contemporary art museum. Connect the dots to see one of the paintings.

Thank you to all the fans. Thank you to all the artists who we borrowed ideas from. Thanks to Jeff at Solid Gold, Joanna at FTW! media, and Heems over at Greedhead. And most of all, thank you to the Gotham font family for supplying all the beautiful letters for this book.

That's all. I hope you enjoyed yourselves and learned something in the process. It's off to the dog food factory for me. Farewell.
